Level 2 Production Chef

The Production Chef Apprenticeship will see you work as part of a team in a time-bound challenging kitchen environment such as; restaurants and hotels, school canteens, high street cafés and sandwich bars, where you will report to the senior production chef. As a Production Chef you are likely to work with centrally developed standardised recipes and menus, often producing large volumes of food. It is important for Production Chefs to be highly methodical and motivated, as well as organised, paying attention to detail and maintain high energy.

This is a 15 month course (+ 4 months EPA) which is delivered mainly in the workplace. You may be asked to attend the college once a month to train within our chef school. You will be assessed through written work, verbal discussion, observation and an end point assessment at the end of your Apprenticeship. While you are completing your Apprenticeship you will need to complete 'off the job training' this is time spent in working hours gaining new knowledge additional to your usual job role, this time is to take place within your contracted hours and will be agreed with your employer.
