Runshaw Yearbook

I joined Runshaw from a school in Yorkshire so it was a completely new start and meeting new friends.

My law teacher was amazing. My favourite memory of her class was her letting us watch "my cousin vinny" at the end of Xmas term! Thank you Runshaw and a specific shout out to my fantastic A Level Law Teacher. I would not have had my career without you!

My memories of Runshaw are good as I was slightly older and one of the few to drive became quite popular with the younger students.

Some of the things I learned have stuck with me throughout my career. I now work as Senior Lecturer in Business and Sport Management at University Academy 92, the University set up by the Manchester United 'Class of 92', Gary Neville, Phil Neville, Paul Scholes, Ryan Giggs and Nicky Butt.

I came to Runshaw to study ICT Level 3 and even through Lockdown I still managed to achieve a D*D*D as my final grade. I have made very close friends who I am still close with now. I am also a referee and Runshaw also gave me the opportunity to referee for the school team and matches while I attended Runshaw. I have come back to Runshaw since leaving in 2021 to undergo a level 3 business admin apprenticeship and work at the college in the adult team. Also since leaving Runshaw i have continued my refereeing and am now becoming a semi-pro match official and making a career out of it.

I met some of my best mates at the college and it really changed my life for the best. I learnt so many different life skills and gave me proper independent life skills that I still use to this day. I wouldn't change my academic career at Runshaw for the world.

After enjoying 2 years of study at Runshaw, I have eventually returned to Runshaw to work in the exams department. Hopefully I can help in any way I can, to give the current students the kind of experience I enjoyed at

I enjoyed my studies at Runshaw. In the beginning, I swapped and changed my courses. Going from Psychology, Geography and Religious Studies to studying Media, Art, English and Sociology in the first year. I then dropped Sociology to focus solely on my other three subjects. My teachers were extremely helpful and made my experience so much better. I now work as the Marketing and Partnership Officer and source Guest Speakers for the college, alongside hosting our very popular Employer Showcases, with over 60 employers. I also am now doing a Level 4 Marketing Course and due to finish that in April 2024.

I really enjoyed my time at Runshaw, making friends for life and have some great memories of college life. I found the courses really engaging and college put me on a good career path and got me where I am today. After college I went off to Chester University to further my studies and kept in touch with my college friends, many of which I still see regularly. Runshaw set me up for a varied career path including sales, account management, then on to marketing manager - since then I have completed a second degree in digital marketing and now working as a partnership manager for a national recruitment company.

I remember an excellent education at Runshaw, but my memories are more like a coming of age movie. I remember how the whole common room we sat in would join in singing Daydream Believer every time it came on the jukebox. I remember all the mates I made there.

I've travelled a lot since Runshaw. Now I teach at a tiny private school in Auckland, New Zealand, with 2 kids and an elder dog who has lived on four different continents.

It is crazy to think I was a student at Runshaw and now I have returned to work in the Employer Relationships Team. It is exactly the same walking in to familiar ground and the wafting of the infamous cookies! Yet they have modernised so much more than when I attended and you can tell it has grown enormously. All of the staff are lovely!

During my time at Runshaw, I studied A-Level Psychology, Business and Sociology. After leaving Runshaw, I continued studying Psychology at Edge Hill University where I graduated with a First Class Degree. For a short while after I took some time away from studying to concentrate on starting a family. I have now been working at Runshaw College for over 5 years. My role has since changed from that of administrator and I now work as an Employer Relationship Co-Ordinator for the college.
